FROM THE SCIENCE OF HEALTH.

Open Fires.—In every home there should be at least one open grate, or some other arrangement for burning wood or soft or hard coal. A fire which can be seen as well as felt—a cheerful, bright, blazing fire, with shovel and tongs—and fender, too, if you please—which will attract the family by its social influences, is a grand thing in a home. Those black, grim, tartarean flues, filled with the stale odors of cellar and hot air-chamber and seething water-tank, and emitting clouds of pulverized ashes to cover your furniture and stifle your lungs, are among the greatest banes of family enjoyment and comfort. It is all well enough to have one's dwelling warmed from top to bottom, and to have no coals to carry beyond the furnace but this heating system has done immense mischief to the family powers, scattering the members of it all over the house, and furnishing not one attractive spot in which the inmates will gather, as by instinct they do, to enjoy the cheery comfort of the fireside. There is no fireside in most of our modern houses. There are only holes in the floor or in the walls. And we are disposed to think that the good ventilation of the open fire adds not a little to the unconscious blessings of its hospitable and domestic influence. The sight of the little folks, as they sit musing and amused while the wood fire burns, and watching the fantastic flames and the glowing coals, is worth many times the cost of that cord of hickory or oak at city prices; and a wise household would rather part with the furnace which that bright blaze supplements and atones for than with the low grate which makes the family circle a real thing. Try it, ye who can, and see if the moral, æsthetic, and domestic power of this style of home comfort is over-estimated.—The Science of Health.

DAY PUPILS.

The Course of Instruction is thorough.

The Corps of Teachers were graduated from the first Normal School in Massachusetts.

Gymnastic Exercises are daily introduced under the watchful care of a superior Teacher.

CAUTION.

Beware of Swindlers and Bogus Agents!

In consequence of the numerous cases of fraud practised on our patrons by bogus agents collecting money in advance to insert names in capitals, &c., we give notice that hereafter our agents will not collect money in advance of publication, however small the amount. Our patrons are particularly cautioned to read any order they sign for advertisement, and see that it is made payable to LAIN & Co.

There are books professing to be Brooklyn Directories, and unprincipled agents will ask if you do not wish to have your business card inserted in the Directory, calling theirs at the same time the Brooklyn or City Directory. They have also often the assurance to say their book is Lain's. This Book is the only one known as the Brooklyn City Directory.

In consequence of the great demand, both in Brooklyn and New York, we have this year resolved to publish an extra edition of our Business Directory. It will contain the name of every business firm, classified under the proper heading; a new Map of the City, Street Guide and Municipal Register. Price, $1.50.

The Brooklyn Directory of each year, from 1840 to date, and Directories of the Principal Cities of the United States, are on file at this office, and may be referred to without charge.

THE NEW YORK EXPRESS.

J. & E. BROOKS, Proprietors.

No. 23 PARK ROW. - - NEW YORK.

New York Evening, Semi-Weekly and Weekly Express for 1874.

WE solicit from friends, personal and political, and from the business public, a continued interest in the Express, and in its Daily, Semi-Weekly and Weekly issues. It is thirty-eight years since the Daily Express commenced in this city with its present proprietors, and in all that time it has been earnestly devoted to the Union, the Equality of States, the Rights of the People, a Constitutional Government, the maintenance of law and order, the diffusion of knowledge, and to whatever will secure the greatest good of the greatest number of people. We also believe in what is tried and good, rather than in that which is vacillating and revolutionary. In these times of official corruption and private extravagance, it becomes more and more the duty of the press to expose dishonesty and to maintain the truth.

To that portion of the people, therefore, who believe in a stable Government, good men, good laws, an economical and honest Government, and in equal and exact justice, we appeal for that measure of public favor which is due to the principles we avow.

The EXPRESS we shall aim to make more and more, in all its departments, a thorough National and Local Newspaper—a Home Journal for the family—a Political Newspaper for the Politician—a Financial and Business Journal for the Banker and man of business. And for the rest, in the future, as in the past, the EXPRESS must speak for itself.

The EVENING EXPRESS having had for twenty-eight years a large circulation, especially among visitors to and business men in the city, is especially worthy of the attention of all classes of advertisers.

In this respect we commend it especially to advertisers who expect to attract the attention of strangers in the city, and of permanent residents.
